

AP Chinese Research Project _ Linguistic

Have you ever wondered why some Korean words sound similar to Chinese words? Have you ever wondered why there were Chinese characters in Korean language before? Have you ever noticed that some expressions or ways of expressing in Chinese are similar to the ones in Chinese?

After the AP exam, we will do a research project on one linguistic aspect you are interested in between Chinese and Korean. You can compare the vocabulary, formation of words, sentence structures or ways of expressing ideas, etc. of these languages, or you can research on the similarities or history of these languages. You will make a video to present what you find out in your research, and I will show it to the Chinese III and Chinese IV students.

Name	Topic
Lauren	History of Language
Eva	vocabulary
Jisoo	sentence structure
Kevin	Formation of Words
Yanis	similarities between the definition and sounds of words
